

OPEN HOUSE FOR TSONGAS: In Wilmington at the home of David and Patricia Gagnon of 200 Middlesex Ave., Congressman Paul Tsongas met with a houseful of well-wishers. In a brief speech, he revealed that a major contract was in the future, for either Avco or G.E. He indicated that he felt that if the election went to the Democrats, the contract would go to Avco. Tsongas also said that if re-elected, he would be seeking a chairmanship of a subcommittee on international finance.

Girl killed on Lowell Street

A 15-year-old girl was killed Friday night when she was struck by a car on Lowell Street in Wilmington, near Stellos Restaurant.

Nancy S. Gunkel of Laurel Ave., was pronounced dead at the scene. A medical examiner later ruled that she had died of a broken neck.

The driver of the car, Joseph

Muise of 561 Woburn St., Wilmington, told police that the girl ran in front of the car. He said that he first saw her when she was 10 to 15 feet in front of him, and that he swerved to the left, trying to stop. She was struck by the right front fender of his car.

The accident occurred shortly before 8 p.m. on a rainy evening.

Lester White appointed to School Committee

The Wilmington Board of Selectmen and the Wilmington School Committee in a joint meeting Tuesday night appointed Lester White to fill the unexpired term of Dr. Francis Sullivan.

White, a 20 year employee of Avco, has been extremely active in community activities. The founder of FISH in Wilmington, he is also a member of the Wilmington Drug Committee. He was one of the founders of the SHARE drug program in Lowell, served as its corporate president, and now a member of its executive board.

He has been quite active as a member of the Wilmington United Methodist Church, where he has been a lay leader, Sunday school teacher, and youth counsellor, as well as chairman of the trustees, chairman of the council on ministries, and chairman of the committee of education.

White lives at 29 Marcus Road with his wife and three daughters.

When asked as to his plans as a member of the school committee, White said that he is interested in providing the best quality education the town can provide in keeping with its ability to pay for it. He said he had no axes to grind.

The two boards took three votes to make their selection.

Nominations were submitted by three members of the School Committee. John Brooks nominated Bill Hanlon of Sprucewood Rd. James Demos nominated John Heine of Chestnut Street. Frank Ottati nominated White.

Selectman Al Caira had voiced opposition to the choice of a new member at this time, since the seat could be filled in the town election in the spring. He did not want to give a candidate the benefit of incumbency, he said, since so many people had expressed an interest in the seat. It was reported that many of those who were interviewed by the school committee would run for the seat in the spring, whether appointed or not.

The first vote was Hanlon 5, White 4 and Heine 1. Lacking a clear majority, the two boards voted again, with Heine eliminated. The result was a 5 to 5 tie between Hanlon and White.

At this point, Chairman Boylen made brief inquiries, and finding that the next vote would be 6 to 4 White, asked for a unanimous vote for White, which was granted.

Other appointments

Prior to the joint meeting with the School Committee, the

Lester White

Selectmen had made two other appointments.

Olin M. London of Church Street was appointed to the Board of Registrars, replacing F. Talbot Emery.

Henrietta Tuttle of Carson Avenue was named to the Beautification Committee, to replace Rhonda Cram.

The board presented a letter of commendation to Emery, who is moving to Maine. On member of the board expressed the hope that Emery might someday give up Boothbay Harbor and return to Silver Lake.

Public Works projects to start soon

Wilmington has two types of public works projects in preparation, both sponsored by the Federal government. Both are scheduled for an early start, sometime in the near future.

The construction of a sewer main to North Wilmington is one that is to be done through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) and will cost about $7 million. Bonds will have to be issued by the Town of Wilmington to pay for this construction, and the money will then be repaid to the town by the Federal government. There should be no local tax money involved, when the total costs are computed.

The first two steps of this project are to construct a main to the vicinity of Wilmington Square, using the Boston and Maine railroad right of way or nearby land, and then to the vicinity of Wiser Ave., also via the Boston and Maine. The cost of the first two steps will be about $2.2 million.

Construction plans are about ready, and the necessary paper work for calling for bids for the sale of bonds is nearly completed. Wilmington residents can feel confident that the work will start soon, possibly before the end of December.

Ted Kennedy visits today

Today will probably be the proudest day in the life of Anna Visconti. The lady is the chairman of the Kennedy Committee in Wilmington, and today Senator Kennedy is to visit Wilmington. Anna will probably escort him all over the place.

The news started to break last week. Ray McNamara, president of the Wilmington Rotary Club announced that Ted Kennedy would be dropping in for lunch next week (today) and wanted to know how many Rotarians would be expecting to have guests. It really doesn't matter how many hands were held up - the Rotary, which normally serves about 60 persons will easily have double that number for lunch today.

Not that all the Rotarians are enthusiastic. Rotary is supposed to be non political, and the first reaction to the announcement from Ray was a question from the other end of the hall - "What about Robertson?" - the Republican candidate for US Senator from Massachusetts.

Yesterday morning Kennedy headquarters called to announce that Ted would be visiting the Town Crier office at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday. One woman, working for the paper, promptly announced that she was going to have a clean desk, for once.

From the Town Crier, the tentative schedule is - Drop-in Center, Avco, Wilmington High School, and then lunch at the Rotary Club.

He leaves Wilmington about 1:30 p.m. for Bedford.

Norwich University honors Michael Kaminski

Michael S. Kaminski, a 1973 graduate of Wilmington High School, has been named a Distinguished Military Student for his accomplishments in Norwich University's Army ROTC program. He was also awarded the Burke Award and the Ranger Tab.

Kaminski, who is majoring in biology at Norwich, is a major in the University's Corps of Cadets. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Kaminski, 23 Fairmeadow Rd., Wilmington.

In order to qualify for the DMS, a student must have leadership and moral character, be in the upper third of his class in Military Science, and be in the upper half of his class in all other academic subjects.

After a Norwich cadet receives the DMS award, he will receive a Distinguished Military Graduate designation, provided he has maintained DMS requirements during his senior year. Upon being named a DMG, he may apply for commission as a 2nd lieutenant in the Regular U. S. Army, to be effective after graduation.

The Burke Award is a cash prize awarded to the senior biology major with the highest academic average.

The Ranger Tab is presented to cadets who successfully completed a 58-day Ranger course in Georgia and Florida which is modeled after rigorous combat conditions.

A BELLY FULL OF FUN: Ed Nash's 50th birthday was one that he won't forget. The birthday party included a belly dancer, and Ed found himself dancing along with her, enthusiastically. Some 35 friends and relatives threw the party for Ed at his home on Woburn Street in Wilmington. Among the many gifts Ed received was a six-month supply of toilet tissue.

To the Editor:
On November 2 the voters of Massachusetts will have the opportunity to decide if Referendum question 6, the Bottle Bill, will benefit the consumer.

In a massive advertising campaign, the Can and Bottle Biggies are telling us how the Bottle Bill will cost the consumer higher prices, cause a loss of jobs, and will not effect the amount of roadside litter.

The Biggies' ads say that we will pay higher prices for returnable bottles. The truth is that every throw-away container, designed to be used only once, costs about six cents to manufacture; a returnable bottle costs about 10 cents. However, when a returnable bottle is reused 10 times, the price per use becomes one cent!!! That is, the more the use, the less the cost to us.

The Biggies' ads say there will be a loss of thousands of jobs in the manufacturing of bottles and cans across the State. What State? Not Massachusetts!! We all know where the big canners, bottlers, and breweries are located...out-of-state. These same Biggies have contributed over $700,000 to defeat the Bottle Bill. Who is paying this cost? We, the consumers, as usual!!

Seventy per cent of roadside litter in Massachusetts consists of throw-away bottles and cans. The Biggies say that passage of the Bottle Bill will force us to pay for the slob who litter. Who are they kidding? Over five million dollars in State taxes were spent last year to try to clean up roadside litter, not to mention additional Federal and local tax dollars spent for roadside clean-up.

How can we forget the trips to the doctor with our children; the trips to the vet with our pets, and the flat tires due to throw-away bottles, cans, and detachable flip-tops?

Over 100,000 little people signed a petition to place question 6 on the ballot to save money. Now the out-of-state Biggies with their out-of-state money tell us the Bottle Bill will not be profitable. They mean that it will not be profitable for them!

On your way to vote on November 2, please take a moment to notice what covers our roadsides...throw-away bottles and cans!!

Let us little people who are forced to pay for the throw-away containers decide. It makes sense to save cents!

Vote Yes on question 6.

Wildcats romp 42-0

For the second straight week the Wildcats had all three running backs over 100 yards as they walloped Austin 42-0 for their fourth win in a row.

The offense was again awesome racking up 502 yards and 22 first downs while the defense allowed only 16 yards and one first down for the Cougars. It was the third straight shutout as the Big Blue D hasn't given up a point in 12 quarters.

Gordie Fitch had another fine day as he ran up three touchdowns and 178 yards in 21 carries. Quarterback Jim Stewart added two more scores as he carried seven for 134 yards. Speedy back Bob Sferrazza in 17 lugs rolled up 123 yards including a 49 yard jaunt.

The game? Well, that was decided by halftime as Wilmington lead 28-0. The Cougars had problems moving the ball as it was three running plays and punt all afternoon. Austin didn't attempt one pass the entire game.

Sferrazza got things rolling with his 49 yard run on Wilmington's third play from scrimmage. Fitch punched in the two point conversion for 8-0 first quarter lead.

In the second period Stewart topped off a 48 yard march sneaking in from the one.

John Campbell's fumble recovery paved the way for Gordie Fitch's 10 yard run and a 21-0 bulge.

In the Wildcats' next possession they drove 80 yards in 11 plays as Fitch bulled in from the one.

The third quarter picked up where the second period left off. Jim Stewart galloped 44 yards and Fitch hit pay dirt with 11 yard run to finish off the rout.

In the final period the JV unit saw action as backs Jim Bibeau and Sal Carbone ran well.

Steve Woods was Stewart's favorite target catching three passes for 45 yards.

The senior quarterback went three for 10 and suffered one interception.

The first real test of the season comes Saturday as Wilmington invades Andover at 1:30.

SPORTS

Wilmington Pop Warner Chargers split

The Wilmington Chargers traveled to Newton last Sunday, and ended up splitting the two games. The A team lost a tough one 12-6 and the B team clobbered its opponent 24 to zip.

In the A game, Newton scored on the opening kick-off to make a quick six to nothing lead. After the ball changed hands Newton scored again to take a 12 to zip lead. Following the second Newton score the Wilmington boys settled down and played a hart-hitting game.

John Reid, Louie Martignetti, David Driscoll showed some great running.

Dennis Robarge hit Donald Robarge with a couple of important passes. Walter Daley, Gred Davidson, Scotty MacDonald, Ken Runge, John Bossi and Jim Godfrey were standouts on offense. Paul Capone, Donald Robarge, and Jim Godfrey did a terrific job on defense. John Reid scored on a six yard scamper for the only score for Wilmington.

The B team fared much better against its counterpart. In the first quarter Ted Moran broke away for a 38 yard touchdown run. On their next series of downs Eddie Olshaw scampered in from 45 yards out for the second score. In the second quarter Ted Moran scored his second and third touchdowns of the game, on runs of 16 yards and 53 yards.

There was some beautiful blocking from Steve DiRupo, Mike Haley, John Horak, Phil Polizzotti, Chris Peabody and David Sullivan.

In the third quarter Chuck Athanasia intercepted a Newton pass and roared 75 yards for a touchdown, only to have the play called back because of a clipping penalty. Pat Pierce, Eric Sunnerberg, Mike Costello, Tim Sanville, Al Dranson, Randy Cawthron, Kevin Mace, Steve Baker and Marc Mackey did a good job on defense.

On the cheerleading side, Mary Ellen Brady, Brenda Clark, Barbara Barrett and Janice MacEachern did a fine job cheering the B team on. On the A cheerleaders Paula Burns, Diane Blonigen, Lori Ann Hardy and Kathleen Costello performed very well.

Next Sunday, Wilmington plays host to Sudbury at the high school field.

Wildcats face the test

In Saturday's game Wilmington journeys to Andover hoping to end a three year drought which has seen Coach Bellissimo's squad give the Golden Warriors all they can handle.

The script would have been nice: Forty straight wins two super bowl titles and the last team to knock off Andover was opening day 1972, Wilmington, 33-28. Instead Bob Aylward's Redmen have made things interesting stunning Andover last Sunday 7-0.

In the past three years the Wildcats have done everything but come away with a win. In 1973 a blocked punt gave Andover the edge 13-8. In 1974 a pass interception paved the way for a 14-6 win while last year Wilmington pushed Andover all over the field only to come up short 6-0.

The showdown comes Saturday as the Wildcats look for win number five while if Andover hopes to keep their title hopes alive they can ill afford another loss. If the pst is any indication it should be an interesting ball game.

Winter hoop registration

All boys and girls between the ages of nine and 16 who would like to participate in the Wilmington Recreation Basketball League (WRBL) this winter and didn't sign up last night, may do so next Wednesday night, October 20 at the High School gym between 7 and 9. There will be three divisions in each of the boys and girls sections this season.

Squirts (nine and 10 year olds); Juniors (11, 12 and 13 year olds); and Seniors (14, 15 and 16 year olds). The determining date for eligibility is Friday, December 31, 1976.

A five ($5.00) dollar fee must accompany each applicant's registration. This nominal fee is to cover the cost of the WRBL shirts and awards.

Cougars come to life

The Austin Cougars sprang to life this past week with all their fall sports teams, with the exception of the varsity footballers, posting victories.

Soccer

The soccer squad gained its second win, as they bested Chelmsford 1 - 0. The cross-country lads chalked up wins over Wilmington and Lawrence Central. The junior varsity and frosh football teams were in the winners' circle with victories over Billerica. Only the varsity gridsters tasted defeat as they were edged by the Billerica Indians.

Steve Scanlon had the scoring honor in the soccer contest versus Chelmsford. Scanlon registered the tally late in the second period after both teams had bounced, kicked and headed the ball afternoon without finding the range. Chelmsford had 18 shots at the goal to Austin's 13. Scanlon's point was the only one that counted. Brendan Trainor and Bill Gallagher (Wilmington) played heads up ball. Tom Mansour was solid on the defense for the Cougars.

The Austin soccer team is now 2 - 4 in conference play. They hold wins over Andover and Chelmsford. The setbacks have come at the hands of strong Methuen, Billerica, Wilmington and St. John's of Danvers.

The "hill and dale guys" had a big week as they trounced Wilmington and Lawrence Central. Blaize Conte finished first in both meets with times of 13:24 and 13:10 respectively.

Andy Parece fourth, Paul Reinzo fifth, Jim Glocking sixth, John Farino ninth, and Tom Callahan 10th, were the other scorers who gave Austin 25 points in the Wilmington win.

In the Central meet Austin runners finished first, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and tenth.

The Cougar cross-country squad seems to have found the winning stride. The varsity and junior varsity runners sport a 3 - 1 record, while the freshmen are 2 - 0.

The one sour note in the sport picture came when the Austin varsity football team lost to Billerica 14 - 6. The game played in the chilling drizzle found Austin still unable to show any offensive power. In the three games played this season, the offense has sputtered and stalled. Lawrence and Andover have blanked the Cougars while Billerica came close to following the same pattern. Only a blocked kick, in the second period, permitted Austin to set up a score. Chris Lumenello covered the ball on the Billerica seven yard line. From this point Mark Govoni passed to Steve Burke for the touchdown. John Holland's pass failed to make connection on the conversion attempt. However, Austin had scored and had taken the lead for the first time this year.

Late in the same period Peter Coppinger, quarterback, successfully passed to Steve Norman down the right sideline. The pass carried 35 yards and Norman ran the other 27 yards for the score. The conversion kick attempt failed. Billerica had tied the agme and had gained momentum.

During the entire first half Austin's defense played tough. On four occasions Billerica was inside Austin's 10. Each time they were forced into turnovers. Once on a fumble on the nine and three times they were unable to penetrate the Cougar defense. John Holland, Chris Lumenello, Paul Tucker and Tony Santullo were outstanding in holding their ground.

The second half found action picking up. Austin moved the ball as they completed several short passes. However, they were never able to put together a sustained drive.

Billerica did manage to make several good gains with Pete Coppinger and Workhorse Con Rippetoe doing some nifty running. Whenever it looked like the visiting Indians were on the way, a fumble or a penalty stalled their attack.

In the final period the visitors were able to post a score. Jim Wright climaxed a 64 yard drive when he broke loose on a 29 yard scoring thrust. Wright shock off three would-be tacklers as he bolted into the end zone. The conversion points were successful, when Billerica, faking a kick had Don Rippetoe pass to Phil Tammelli.

MVC forecast

MVC showdown at Andover

Coming off a stunning performance against previously unbeatable Andover the undefeated TMHS football team must avoid a letdown this Saturday at Chelmsford. Coach Tom Catos' Lions have struggled up to this point, but they should be sky high for Tewksbury.

Wilmington is coming off another awesome win as they enter into a MVC football showdown at Andover. The Wildcats have not allowed a conference point in beating Lawrence 27-0, Chelmsford 35-0 and Austin Prep 42-0. With a 131-6 count run up against four opponents the Wildcats look to be the favorite. Andover knows that another loss would all but eliminate them from the MVC title picture.

October 16 games...

Wilmington at Andover...Probably the best game of the fall. Both teams have potent ground games with the slight edge going to Gordie Fitch, Jim Stewart and Bob Sferrazza in the WHS backfield. Warrior quarterback Mitch Rousseau looks to bounce back after a bad day at Tewksbury.

Andover defense looks vulnerable to the short pass. Wildcats continue to roll. Wilmington by eight points.

Tewksbury at Chelmsford...Always a tough game between these two teams. Chelmsford's offense has stumbled, but their defense has good size and is well coached. After the Andover it is important that Tewksbury not lose to a weak Chelmsford team.

Tewksbury by seven points. Lawrence at Dracut...Dracut defense is too tough for the weak Lancers. Lawrence's only win could be that early season shutout of Austin Prep.

Dracut by 10 points. Methuen at Billerica...A pick-em game. Methuen is long overdue.

Methuen by six points. Central vs Austin Prep...The Cougars have an excellent shot at a winless season.

Central by 14 points.

Golden Bears edge Redskins

Led by quarterbacks John Cushing and Lance Sullivan, the Golden Bears edged the spirited Redskins by a score of 6 - 0, Monday afternoon at Town Park.

John Cushing scored the only touchdown on a six yard rush, after Tim Quinn scampered the length of the field on an end sweep. Excellent defensive tackling was displayed by Billy Woods, Rich Doucette, Mark Minervini, Tim Robarge and Brian Fuller threw key blocks through the game.

Sean Neill's booming punts kept the Redskins deep in their own territory. This is the second win in as many starts for the Golden Growlers.

Bug off!

Dear Sirs:

Halloween falls on a Sunday this year. In past years when my parents went out on Halloween if it fell on a Sunday, that's when they went out to get candy and all. Now though, there's a big controversy that if Halloween falls on a Sunday you have to have it on Saturday. Then you get the same idiots going out Sunday and getting twice as much as they'd normally get.

Please find an answer for this so I can post it on my door and tell all the idiots to bug off!!

The Tewksbury Drop In Center

Members of the Council on Aging and members of the Municipal Building Committee have agreed that there should be only one proposal before the coming Town Meeting, on the possible construction of a drop-in center for the elderly at Tewksbury Center.

The committee agreed that only one article should be on the warrant, and that should be to construct a place that can accommodate 300 persons, with plans for proper cooking facilities, and suitable social service rooms. There was unanimous agreement of the two committees in an October 6 meeting held in the Town Hall. Among those taking part in the discussion were George Singleton, who made proposal plans, Paul McAskill, Attorney

David Hart, Jim Miniutti, Larry Driscoll, Father O'Sullivan and Florence Sullivan.

The selectmen had been previously told that two sizes were being proposed, one for 200 persons and one for 300 persons. There was unanimous agreement last Wednesday that there would be no economy in constructing a place that would be too small. The selectmen will be asked to have only one article on the warrant, and let the town vote on that.

The proposals as made by Mr. Singleton would be for a building to cost about $180 thousand, with a brick finish. The criticisms offered were mainly that the proposed cooking facilities and the refrigerator were not large enough, and that there should be some rooms, where a nurse could be present for consultation by some of the elderly who would be visiting the building.

EDWARD SULLIVAN SPEAKING: The Clerk of the Courts, speaking at the LWV Candidates Night in the North Street School in Tewksbury last Friday. The hostesses were the ladies of the Tewksbury League of Women Voters.

Seated behind Mr Sullivan are Selectman Frank Antonelli, candidate for the state legislature; Roger Durkin, candidate for Congress; Carl Cincotta, candidate for Middlesex County Commissioner; Rep. James Gaffney and County Commissioner Mike McLaughlin.

"The most famous scapegoat in the world"

The discussion between Congressman Paul Tsongas and candidate Roger Durkin, at the Tewksbury League of Women Voters, Friday evening, did not last long. Tsongas left early, to go to Lexington, and left behind him an audience of about 100, and an indignant Mr. Durkin.

"I'm insulted to think he should walk out of this like that," Durkin said "and you should be too!"

Durkin went on to tell his hostesses and their guests that the schedule of their Open House had been known for several weeks, the candidates had accepted the invitations, and it was no time for one of them to go skipping out to another place where he would not have to face opposition.

The discussion between the two men was almost standard, in some respects except that Durkin wanted to have Tsongas talk about the national debt, and whether or not Tsongas had voted for $300 billion in public debt in his two years in Congress. But Tsongas had left.

Tsongas had said that a discussion of public debt is "standard campaign issue" and invited the listeners to compare eight years of Democratic Administration and eight years of Republican Administration. The country always gets a deficit, he said, in times of depression, recession or war. It was the Republicans, he said, who put up the high interest rates which "pulls in" the money, and the way to get out of deficit spending is to get everything moving again.

Tsongas passed over, very quickly, the charges by Durkin about a 20 cent proposed tax on gasoline. He said his proposed bill was so written that a better than average driver would get 17 cents back.

Tsongas thought that this was better than to decontrol gas - "Who benefits? - the Oil Company!"

The next to last thing Tsongas said, before he left the platform, was to blame ex-president Nixon.

"The critical issue" Tsongas said "was Mr. Nixon. He did a lot of damage to us" a move that Tsongas further defined as being caused because "we voted against him."

Then just before he left, Tsongas took a slam at President Ford. "Today's critical bills, such as Public Housing, all get vetoed by President Ford."

Under the rules which had been laid down by the Moderator, Pat

Plunkett of Andover Street, Durkin was unable to comment on the Tsongas statements for some minutes, but when he did he came up spluttering, or nearly so.

Instead of a discussion of the issues, he said, Tsongas was blaming things on "the most famous scapegoat in the world."

Durkin, in his opening statements had told the audience that the United States now owes $700 thousand million dollars - $700 billion. The people are unable to understand this, he said. The Ford

State Representative

Frank Antonelli was the first to speak, of the two men running for Representative from Tewksbury. Antonelli had served in the legislature in 1973-74, and he told the audience that he did not get re-elected because of the confusion in a three-man race. Antonelli lost by 30 votes.

There were many differences, he said, between himself and the current representative, Mr. Gaffney. Antonelli believes he served the people of Tewksbury better because of "MY FIRST HAND KNOWLEDGE" + OF THE "many needs of the community" - the "taxes, sewer, recreation, water needs."

He charged that his opponent had no real knowledge of the needs of Tewksbury, and "I believe I really served in the best interests of Tewksbury."

James Gaffney, who spoke next, told the audience that he had pledged to give full time an independent representation, and he had done so.

He had made his office a "participation office" he said. He utilized reports, he paid attention to the phone calls, and he made things into a "partnership with the Town of Tewksbury."

Gaffney emphasized that he had voted against taxes several times. He had voted against self service. He had voted against the proposed pay raises for the state officials.

A record, he said "is something to build on - not to stand on."

Right to Life Issue

Both men were asked their stands on the "Right to Life" issue.

Mr. Gaffney told his audience that the issue as governed by the Supreme Court decision. In the first three months of pregnancy, he said, the decision ruled there could be no legislation that would come between a woman and her physician.

He was not certain as to where he would draw the line. "Within the guidelines of the Supreme Court decision I would possibly support a guideline to restrict abortions."

Mr. Antonelli was more brief. "There is no question on my position - I am opposed to abortion - I am for the Right to Life."

Capital Punishment

On a law and order question Mr. Antonelli said he didn't feel that anyone should have the right to take someone's life. "The deterrent is not capital punishment."

Antonelli also said he had voted against prison furloughs, in 1973 and 74. Furloughs should be much more restricted, he said.

James Gaffney said that there could be a limited application for furloughs when a prisoner was approaching the end of his sentence.

Speaking on the death sentence, he felt that capital punishment, in a first degree murder, could be a deterrent.

He did not favor capital punishment for murders involving passion or stress, but in "premeditated murder, it could be a deterrent."

What bills?

Selectman Hallisey asked the two candidates to define the bills they had filed, to help Tewksbury.

Gaffney told the audience he was working, with others, on solar energy bills. He had legislation which passed title of some surplus well fields from the state hospital to the town. He was the co-sponsor of a generic drug bill. He had filed legislation to reduce the size of the governor's cabinet.

Gaffney also said he had filed a bill to increase the abatement of taxes for elderly person and had two bills, one which would make a mandatory jail sentence for adults involved in juvenile crimes, another of which involved juveniles engaged in house breaks.

Gaffney is also taking part in the initiative petition that would change the laws so that money coming from the lotteries would revert to the cities and towns.

Mr. Antonelli said he would give the highlights.

He had filed legislation which had increased the abatement of taxes for elderly and widows, from $14 thousand to $20 thousand. He had obtained for Tewksbury, 90 acres of land for a new high school, with no cost. Land he said, is now worth about $12 thousand an acre.

He had obtained a right-of-way across the property of the State Hospital for sewer proposal.

He had located and obtained land on Livingston Street for housing for the elderly, and he had led in legislative attempts to reduce the size of the budget for the County Hospital, saving about one half million dollars for the taxpayers.

The Phantom Candidate

There were two candidates for County Commissioner present, but a third one was brought in, by indirection.

County Commissioner Mike McLaughlin called County Commissioner Lester Ralph the "Phantom Candidate."

He doesn't show enough interest and respect to come out and meet the people, McLaughlin charged.

Car Cincotta of Waltham, 27 years old, was the first to speak. He is a member of the city council. His aim is to turn over the government of Counties in Massachusetts to the state, - "where they belong."

According to Cincotta there is no civil service in Middlesex County, it is all a matter of patronage.

Mike McLaughlin of Billerica opened his statement with his remarks about Ralph. Then he told of reducing the cost of government of the county - fiscal 1976, he said, is 3.8% smaller than fiscal 75, and there isn't any county or city in the state that can say this.

In spite of that, he said, there has been a 2.5% increase in the budgets of essential services.

Patronage, McLaughlin said, is "still rampant in the state." Today we have a county bondsman and there are no relatives on the payroll - nothing to hide.

Clerk of Courts

The Clerk of Courts candidate was Ed Sullivan, who has been in office for 18 years. Sullivan spoke of the history of "back-logs" in the Middlesex County Courts, and of statements by opponents about the backlogs. There was no way, Sullivan said, to eliminate the back log unless we add judges.

A year ago some justices were recalled. Mr. Justice Mitchell was assigned to the Cambridge Court to break the backlog.

"We eliminated over 6,000 cases in a two months period."

Sullivan said the Court needed a computer, but the County Commissioners would not provide one, so he went to a neighbor - a Congressman, and now a computer is being provided.

present lawsuit, involving an Eames Street firm, as a hindrance, which might stop the construction of the sewer.

There should be absolutely no difficulty, according to Representative Fred F. Cain, who has investigated the subject. He sees nothing as being in the way of calling for bids for bonds, selling the bonds, and then calling for bids for the construction of the sewer mains.

Selectmen endorse bottle bill

The Wilmington Board of Selectmen Tuesday night voted unanimously to endorse the passage of referendum question 6 on the November 2 ballot, the proposal to place a deposit on disposable containers.

Mrs. Joan Sadowski appeared before the board to propose that they endorse the question, and after some discussion, she did so.

Water mains

A second kind of public works should be started in the month of March, 1977, give or take a few weeks.

The Wilmington Water Department has prepared plans for the construction of new water mains on Chestnut Street, Middlesex Avenue and Woburn Street. The mains will replace some now in use, but which are inadequate.

The construction of these water mains would be under Public Law 94-369, the Public Works Employment Act of 1976. The law was without funds until recently, but about two weeks ago President Ford signed a bill which had been passed by Congress, and which appropriates $3.7 billion for this purpose.

As already reported, there are two other proposals for public works projects. The Wilmington Housing Authority seeks the construction of housing for the elderly, and some men in the Fire Department would like to see a fire station in North Wilmington.

Because of the paper work that has to be done there is doubt, in both instances, that the two projects can be proposed in time for acceptance.
